

Will Francis

Host & Presenter

Web: willfrancis.com // Email: will@willfrancis.com // Phone: 07832 356 705

About Will...

One of the most listened to people on Twitter, Will is a key voice in the media community. As Editor of MySpace for several years, Will was the face (and voice) of the UK site, conducting interviews with artists from the biggest to the most indie in the world.

...and @willfrancis

Listed by The Daily Telegraph as 5th most influential technology person in UK on Twitter alongside Stephen Fry and Pete Cashmore

100th most followed person in London on Twitter

Highlights

During MySpace's heyday, Will was the UK Editor, hosting interviews and events in a variety of situations.

Film Premiere Red Carpets & Junkets

Will hosted numerous interviews in the press pen at London film premieres and at junkets. This allowed him to cut his teeth on sharp cookies such as Ashton Kutcher, Daniel Craig, Lily and Alfie Allen, Robert Pattinson, Morgan Spurlock and many more.

Live Webcast Interviews

In 2009 Will started weekly live webcast interviews in which he allowed fans to get up close and personal with their favourite artists. Guests included Cheryl Cole, Justin Bieber, Ricky Gervais, The Sugababes, Jared Leto, Frankie Boyle, the Skins cast, Mika, Sean Kingston, Alexandra Burke, Foals, Lostprophets.

Live Events

As the key ambassador for MySpace, Will hosted fan-oriented events such as exclusive shows, Q&As and fan meet-and-greets with artists such as Russell Brand, Jonah Hill, Bullet For My Valentine, Pendulum, Ke$ha.

And...

Will recently shot scenes for The Glass Man, a forthcoming British independent film starring Neve Campbell and Andy Nyman, in which he plays a TV presenter.